

The Reformation

Characters of the Reformation

In bold living colours Belloc sketches 23 famous men and women of the Reformation period, analysing their strengths, weaknesses, mistakes and motives and pinpointing deeds that changed the course of history. There are more than a few surprises here, as Belloc often puts the real responsibility for the Reformation on persons not usually appreciated by history. He describes the characters and deeds of real people, tracing the results of their greed, lust, tenacity, blindness, fear and - in the case of St Thomas More - heroic Catholic constancy.

Ignatius Press 978 1621641377

264 pages

£12.99

How the Reformation Happened

Belloc provides a largely untold story that answers a critical historical question about Western civilization: How did Christendom come to suffer shipwreck in the Protestant Reformation? He admits that corruption among churchmen and clerical abuses in the use of church revenues prepared the way for the flood of revolt. But he uncovers other, more decisive, factors involved in the movement. He demonstrates that it was not doctrine, but rather avarice and rebellion against the clergy, that originally fuelled the Reformation.

TAN 978 089555465 9

224 pages

£7.99

Luther and His Progeny

Edited by John C Rao

500 Years of Protestantism & Its Consequences for Church, State and Society

A brilliant collection of essays examining Martin Luther's role in the dissolution of medieval Christendom and his influence on subsequent developments. Anyone who wants to understand the long decline from the Catholic Middle Ages to the secular present will find a wealth of insight in this book.

Edmund Waldstein, O Cist

Angelico 9781621382546

320 pages

£16.50

The English Reformation

Peter Milward, SJ

In order to understand England today, it is necessary to understand the Reformation. No other event in the last millennium has caused such a sharp historical rupture.. This book explores the ways in which the Reformation left its mark on England in those turbulent years of the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries. It shows how the Reformation grew from being a political issue about the King's divorce to one which affected the whole fabric of society. It then looks at how the impact of the turmoil found expression in Renaissance drama, and in particular in the plays of Shakespeare.

Gracewing 978 085244 837 3

128 pages

£7.99

The Autobiography of a Hunted Priest

John Gerard, SJ

This autobiography of a Jesuit priest in Elizabethan England is a most remarkable document and John Gerard, its author, a most remarkable priest in a time when to be a Catholic in England courted imprisonment and torture, to be a priest was treason by act of Parliament. Smuggled into England after his ordination and dumped on a Norfolk beach at night, Fr Gerard disguised himself as a country gentleman and travelled about the country saying mass, preaching and ministering to the faithful in secret - always in constant danger. Tortured in the Tower he made a dramatic escape by rope.

Ignatius 978 158617450 7

374 pages

£14.99

St Nicholas Owen - Priest Hole Maker

Tony Reynolds

Since to be a priest in the reign of Elizabeth I and James I was high treason it was essential that priests had somewhere to hide. One name is prominent in the construction of priest-holes - that of Nicholas Owen. A very short and later crippled man, he built the majority of these shelters, so saving the lives of untold numbers of priests. During the vigorous pursuit of Catholics he was finally caught and died upon the rack in the Tower of London in 1606.

Gracewing 978 085244849 5

164 pages Illustrated

£9.99

The Rise and Growth of the Anglican Schism

Rev Dr Nicholas Sander

Written c1573, The Rise and Growth of the Anglican Schism has been a rare book, one found in a few libraries and hardly ever on the market. Yet this is a truly great source book of information on the Protestant Reformation in England, an essential book used by writers about the history of the Reformation. For here is told in incredible detail the story of Henry VIII, first published in 1585, it is the earliest and most trustworthy account which we possess of the great changes in Church and State. This book soon became famous far beyond England and was translated into many languages.

TAN 978 0 89555347 3

380 pages

£12.99

A History of the Protestant Reformation

William Cobbett

William Cobbett, an English Protestant, writing in the 1820's provides an accurate and compelling chronicle of the events which followed Henry VIII's break with Rome, the destruction of the monasteries and displacement of countless thousands of tenant farmers from monastic lands which rapidly produced a vast number of homeless poor. He argues the loss of this monastic culture caused a permanent rift between the labourer and the nobleman which had not existed in Catholic England. His narrative takes the reader from the reign of King Henry VIII up to the reign of King George III.

TAN 978 0895553539

424 pages

£19.99

A Time Before You Die A novel of the Reformation

Lucy Beckett

A powerful, beautifully written novel of loss, finding and being found, set in very traumatic time in European history - the Protestant Reformation. The turbulent sixteenth century saw the disintegration of medieval Christendom, especially affected were the monks and nuns who were persecuted by the wholesale dissolution of the monasteries. One of these monks, Robert Fletcher, a Carthusian of the dismantled priory of Mount Grace in Yorkshire, is the hero of this novel.

The story of this strong, vulnerable man is told in counterpoint with the story of one of the most interesting men in all of English history, Reginald Pole, a nobleman, scholar and theologian who was exiled to Italy for twenty years. He was a cardinal of the Church and a papal legate at the Council of Trent. As the archbishop of Canterbury, with his cousin Queen Mary Tudor, he tried, in too short a time, to renew Catholic England. This man, in the tragic last months of his life, becomes in the novel the friend of Robert Fletcher, condemned as a heretic.

Ignatius 978 1 62164074 5

354 pages

£13.99

Mary Tudor - England's First Queen Regnant

Gregory Slysz

The author outlines the reasons for the vilification of Mary and her administration, and gives a more balanced introduction to her early life, the crisis of her accession, and the influence of her personal faith and policy-making. Crucial to this is an understanding of the true state of late Medieval and early Tudor religion, Mary's relations with Cardinal Pole and the challenges presented by the Catholic Restoration in her reign.

Gracewing 978 9 85244 856 4

228 pages

£12.99

Conscience is My Crown

Patricia W Claus

A Family's Heroic Witness in an Age of Intolerance - This is the true story of four courageous men, including St Robert Southwell, the Jesuit martyr, who played pivotal roles in the religious and political struggles which nearly ripped England apart, beginning with Henry VIII's break with Rome, through to the Restoration of 1660, and beyond.

Gracewing 978 085244 880 9

228 pages Illustrated £12.99

Catholics and Protestants - what Can we Learn from Each Other? Peter Kreeft

The author and philosopher presents a unique book about the important beliefs that Catholics and Protestants share in common. Inspired by Christ's prayer for unity in the Gospel of St John and St John Paul II's encyclical, Kreeft demonstrates that Christian reunification is possible.

Ignatius 978 1 62164 101 8

204 pages

£13.00

GRACEWING

2 Southern Avenue, Leominster, Herefordshire HR6 0QF

Tel: 1568.616835 Fax: 01568.613289 gracewingx@aol.com www.gracewing.co.uk